

The Emin Way Presents

The Ways and Means of Natural Human Progression

There is a lot of talk today about how established models are breaking down and no longer serve us... Whether in government, business, or education, the old ways no longer work. It all seems to point to a need for growth and progression as human beings first. The question then is, what are the ways and means of a natural human development?

All are welcome to join us for this last in a series of workshops on the five intelligences of the soul, a system designed to allow and promote our fullest, most natural expression.
