

The Emin Way Presents...

Updating Ourselves In The Now

Travelers in life are we, and naturally there are times to take a step back and take stock, to find out where we are now, visit our expectations and satisfactions, make course corrections if necessary, find out what is missing, and let go of what no longer serves our purpose and aims...

This workshop will unfold at a gentle dwelling speed, to consider the terrain already covered in the workshops and what questions or clarifications might be needed about any aspect of the work and the Emin way of living.
