

The Emin Way Presents...

Taking Care of Team You!

As we look outwards at the vast universe, so may we also look inwards at the universe that we are; for both are made of many integrated systems, all working by the same principles.

The human is a temple of complex parts working together, not only physical, but also spiritual and enigmatic – including the mind, mentality, soul and spirit. This workshop will introduce the main players of 'team you', each of which has its particular needs, ways and purposes in supporting our life.
