

The Emin Way Presents...

Principles Part II: The Keel and Rudder of the Ship

It is the adherence to our principles that will keep us steady in times of turbulence and always headed in the direction of our choosing.

In our workshop last week, we engaged in preliminary contemplations to locate ourselves in the territory of our core values and qualities. That work will provide a platform for forming statements of principle that are true to who we are and the steps that must be taken in our development journey.

You are invited to join us on Sunday as we continue to do the work that will allow us to live a life true to our purpose.
